

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION

Monika Fludernik and Greta Olson	xiii
1. In The Grip of Law: The Prisonization of American Society	xiii
2. Literary Perspectives on Trials	xix
3. Literary Prison Worlds – Images of Incarceration	xxv
4. Law and Literature versus Law as Literature: Dissenting Opinions	xxx
5. Overview of the Volume	xli
6. Closing Remarks	xlvi

PART I: TRIALS 1

Captain Kidd and the King: Piracy and Politics in Restoration England Anna-Christina Giovanopoulos	3
"Thereupon There Were Produced Three False Witnesses...": Trial Scenes in Elizabethan Sacred Biography Thomas Lederer	23
Law as Thought Pattern and Ordering Principle in Shakespeare's Trial Scenes Greta Olson	43
Representations of the British Legal System in Twentieth-Century Popular Courtroom Drama Beatrix Hesse	65
Trials of Law and Language: Caleb Williams and John Horne Tooke Martin A. Kayman	83
Circulating Ideas of Democracy: The Legal Culture of the High Treason Trials of 1794 Christoph Houswitschka	105

CONTENTS

PART II: PRISONS	125
Errands into the Carceral Wilderness: Fictions of Imprisonment as Narratives of Social Alterity Frank Lauterbach	127
Prison Metaphors – The Carceral Imaginary? Monika Fludernik	145
Realities of the Prison: Dickens, Scott, and the Secularization of their Eighteenth-Century Inheritance Harry E. Shaw	169
The Innocent Convict: Character, Reader Sympathy, and the Nineteenth-Century Prison in Little Dorrit Carol Colatrella	187
Prison, Passion, and the Female Gaze: Twentieth-Century Representations of Nineteenth-Century Panopticons Heidi Slettedahl Macpherson	209
Percival Everett's Glyph : Prisons of the Body Physical, Political, and Academic Jacqueline Berben-Masi	227
Bodies Behind Bars: The Disciplining of the Prisoner's Body in British and American Prison Movies Jan Alber	245
Caliban Revisited: Robben Island in the Autobiographical Record Monika Fludernik	275
CONTRIBUTORS	293